RAIN INTERFERES WITH CEREMONIES

But Masons Lay Cornerstone of New School With Impressive Ritual

Rain, coming right after the side of school children down town, interfered with the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of the new Madison High School Friday afternoon to a considerable extent.

The downpour made it necessary to see all the shelter possible ble, so the exercises were somewhat curtailed.

There was a large attendance of Masons under whose auspices the ceremony was held. The cornerstone was laid. State Superintendent of Schools George Colvin made the formal address of the day. The impressive Masonic ritual for such ceremonies was used by the officers of Richmond Lodge No. 25. Grouped around the scene were all city and county officials, and a large gathering of citizens. The occasion was indeed a memorable one, marking as it did, a milestone in the educational life of the community.

Under the Cornerstone
A handsomely engraved copper plate is enclosed in a hermetically sealed copper box, which was placed beneath the cornerstone of the new Madison High School. On the copperplate is engraved this:

This cornerstone was laid May 26, 1922, under the auspices of Richmond Lodge No. 25, P. and
A. M., W. Jack Wagers, W. M., Gr. M. proxy, F. C. Gentry, D. M.,

WHAT! WILL FORD REVIVE 16 TO 1

(By Associated Press)

Detroit Mich., May 26—A committee of several prominent men, neighbors of Henry Ford, will call upon Ford early next week.
It was announced today, and urged the manufacturer to be a candidate for the Presidency of the United States in 1924. It was indicated an effort would be made to have him run on an independent ticket with a change in the monetary standard as one of the chief planks in his platform.

STARTS SOMETHING AT WOMEN'S MEET

(By Associated Press)

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 26—A resolution offered by Mrs. W. J.
Stone, of Frankfort, recommending that the State Federation of Women's Clubs investigate the teaching of evolution in the University of Kentucky, was ruled out of order today by Mrs. Reynolds, state president, after a stormy session of the Federation
here today.

order.

Soderman Trial Closing

(By Associated Press)

Dallas, Texas, May 26—The trial of David E. Soderman for alleged murder of J. Clay Powers, today narrowed to rousels closing arguments. The court has already instructed the jury it may find him not guilty or may find him guilty of manslaughter
or may find him guilty of murder
if the jury finds the circumstances justify.

BABE RUTH OUT OF GAME AGAIN

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, May 26—Babe Ruth,
the New York Yankees, today
was declared by President Ban-Johnson, of the American League, ineligible to play until a complete investigation is made of his argument with Umpire Hildebrand which resulted in the home run
being put out of the game yesterday, and then climbing into the stands when he became offended at the booing of fans.
He said Ruth will not be permitted to play today.

STILL FIGHTING OVER PLUM COUNTER

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 26—The Blair-Dover controversy in the Treasury department, described yesterday by Secretary Mellon as closed, was again laid before President Harding today with presentation of a petition signed by more than a dozen members of the Ohio delegation in Congress, asking reinstatement of C.
C. Hilds, of Ohio, former Supervisor of Collectors of Internal Revenue Bureau. Almost coincident with the presentation
it became known that Frederick Gaillinger, of West Virginia, special assistant in the accounts unit of the Bureau, has been suspended pending an investigation of charges against him. A few minutes later the suspension of Samuel Fatchell, chief payroll
examiner of the accounts unit,
was announced.

MAY NOT LET HENRY DO IT

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 26—A comprehensive plan for the development of all government property at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, will probably be reported to Congress by the House Military Committee next week, it was said today on good authority after the committee discussed proposals for Muscle Shoals development
in executive session.

McGraw Offers $150,000

For Rousch and Donohue

Cincinnati, May 26—Manager
John J. McGraw today announced that his club was willing and ready to pay $150,000 for the contracts of Eddie Rousch, outfielder, and Pete Donohue, pitcher, of the Cincinnati Reds. President August Hermann of the Reds, said Donohue was rapidly developing into one of the great stars of the mound and that he would not be traded or sold to any other club under any circumstances. As to Rousch, Hermann said that the Cincinnati club could not deal with or for Rousch, while the latter remained a holdout.

SUBLIME PRINCIPLES OF ROTARY CLUBS

Are Impressively Laid Before Richmond Members In Charter Presentation

Perhaps the most delightful and satisfactory meeting that the new Richmond Rotary Club has ever held was that of Thursday evening when it formally was presented with its International charter by Governor T. Graham Hall, of Nashville, tri-state Governor of Rotary Clubs.

In conferring this charter upon the Richmond club, Gov. Hall took occasion to impress upon the members the cardinal principles of Rotary. His address was pronounced a masterpiece by all who heard him. He inspired every Rotarian with the true spirit of Service, the fundamental upon which this great order is built.
In response President Homer W.
Carpenter, of the Richmond Club, met the challenge for fulfillment of the obligation which the Richmond Club assumes, and pledged the united membership to maintenance of those principles, unsullied and unshaken, that were so forcibly impressed by Gov.
Hall in tendering the charter.

The evening was a big one for Rotary both in Richmond and Central Kentucky. The Richmond Club was delighted to welcome as guests as well as the tri-state governor, a number of the leading Rotarians of Lexington and Winchester. Manager Smyer spread a most attractive menu in the main dining room of the Hotel Glyndon. Short introductory addresses were made by President O. R. Webber, of the Winchester Rotary Club, past President C. T. Rossell, past President Frank L. Carter, of the Lexington Club, before the governor spoke.

Guests present from Lexington and Winchester were: C. T. Roswell, F. L. Carter, Connie Stewart, George T. Graves, J. Bruce Davis, Louis E. Hillemeier, Leslie McCormick, Chas. Powell, Howard Wilkerson, and George
B. Carey, Lexington; Ed Grubbs,
E. T. Smith, Edgar Taylor, J. E.
Metcalf, O. R. Webber, Walter
Bean, Edward W. Jouett, and R.
J. Jouett, of Winchester.

PUSHIN'S SALE STARTS WITH BIG CROWDS

Pushin's Fashion Shop was crowded all Friday morning with a happy throng of shoppers. In talking over the results with Jack Pushin, the manager, the representative from the Daily Register was told that never in the history of his experience had he seen such a quick response to newspaper advertising. For the past week Mr. Pushin has advertised the big remodeling sale, a fifteen days selling event, and he cut the prices on his whole stock to the bone. The ladies of this section acknowledged upon their visits to his store that he certainly had world of bargains in ready-to-wear and Jack says that as long as his present stock lasts it will be closed out at these low figures.

11 Miners Killed

FEUD MURDER TRIALS COME TO MADISON

Richmond will see some real big feud trials at the November term of court.

The Colson-Ball cases, as a result of which there was a wholesale shooting in Bell county courthouse last week, have been given change of venue from Bell county to Madison county by Circuit Judge J. G. Forester. A dispatch from Pineville had this to say of the transfer:

Two cases against George Colson, one charging the killing of Ira Ball in Middlesboro last winter, and one charging malicious shooting and wounding, growing out of the courthouse battle last week, were transferred to the circuit court at Richmond for trial by Judge Forester in circuit court here Thursday on motion of Capt. B. B. Golden, commonwealth attorney. The cases were set for the October term of court. Judge Rodes Shackelford is presiding judge in that court.

The change of venue in this case probably means that all of the Colson-Ball cases, the calling of one of which resulted in the courthouse battle Wednesday of last week, will be transferred to other counties for trial, though no action was taken on them because all of the defendants were not before the court. Judge Forester ordered that bench warrants be issued for Floyd Ball,
Frank Ball and Alva Ball, indicted
Saturday by the grand jury,
all the indictments growing out of the courthouse shooting last week.

TO DEDICATE BURNAM HALL SATURDAY

Governor Morrow To Deliver
Address on Completion of
New Normal Building

Dedicatory exercises of Bur-
nam Hall at Eastern Kentucky
State Normal School will be held Saturday, May 27th, at 2 o'clock.
Everybody in Richmond and Madison county who can possibly attend is cordially invited to witness the exercises. The program will be as follows:

1. Parade of the student body,
starting from Roark Hall.
2. Invocation.
3. Introduction of the presiding officer, Supt. George Colvin,
by President T. J. Coates.
4. Address, Supt. George Colvin.
5. Address, Regent J. W.
Cammack.
6. Dedictory Address, Gov.
Edwin P. Morrow.
7. Benediction.

The meeting will be presided
over by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, George Colvin. An address will be delivered by Governor Morrow. There will be good music and a great and enjoyable time.

The Hall to be dedicated is a women's dormitory which has been completed a short time and is now being occupied by women attending the Normal School. It has been named in honor of Judge A. R. Burnam, deceased, of this county. Judge Burnam was in the senate at the time the largest appropriation ever made for education in Kentucky was made, and he was largely instrumental in securing that appropriation. The other women's dormitory was named in honor of Hon. J. A. Sullivan, who was in the House of Representatives at the same time Judge Burnam was in the Senate. Much of the valuable legislation of that period was the work of these two patriotic Kentuckians.

It is the hope of the Normal School authorities that an immense crowd of citizens of Richmond and of Madison county will turn out and help them pay tribute to the memory of this distinguished Richmond citizen and to Kentucky.

Don't forget the hour, 2
o'clock Saturday afternoon.

PUBLIC INVITATION TO DEDICATION OF JUDGE A. R. BURNAM HALL

It is hereby announced that the dedicatory exercises of the new girls dormitory of Eastern Kentucky State Normal School and Teachers' College, named in honor and memory of Judge Anthony Rollins Burnam, deceased, will take place on the campus in the abundant shade of trees in front of said dormitory, the exercises to begin at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 27th, 1922.

An interesting program worthy of the occasion has been prepared and will be carried out. Addresses and remarks will be delivered by Hon. E. P. Morrow, Governor of Kentucky, Hon. George Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Judge Ed C. O'Rear, Judge J. W. Cammack, regent, and possibly others.

The public in general, are most cordially invited to atten-said occasion and thus to do honor to the memory of a most useful, progressive citizen of Richmond, who was an industrious, able, eloquent lawyer, honest, in the broad sense, to the very core; and a farseeing conscientious Senator; and a pure, able, upright and just Appellate Judge. The following are also especially invited to attend on said occasion, viz:

- 1.—All the descendants and relatives by blood or marriage
of Judge A. R. Burnam;
- 2.—All his friends;
- 3.—All the members of the Richmond bar and his former business associates—whether banking or what not;
- 4.—All county and city officers;
- 5.—All members of the county and city Boards of Education, and all teachers employed thereunder, also the county and city School Superintendents;
- 6.—All ministers of the gospel;
- 7.—All members of the Madison County Chamber of Commerce, and the Richmond Rotary and Golf Clubs;
- 8.—All merchants and all tradesmen and employees of Richmond;
- 9.—And last but not least, all the farmers of Madison county, one of which class Judge Burnam was, on a large scale, till his death.

Appropriate music will be rendered.
Many of Judge Burnam's distant friends have written that they will be here.

Respectfully,
J. A. SULLIVAN.

This May 25, 1922. Local Regent E. K. S. N. S. and T. C.

The Daugherty-Felder-Morse scandal which follows fast after the Fall-Denby-Sinclair Naval Oil scandal, while the odor of the Nat Goldstein scandal is still strong in the public's nostrils, has resulted in a suggestion that Attorney General Daugherty resign from the cabinet, and a demand from another quarter that Congress make a searching and impartial investigation of the charges against the Attorney General.

While Harry M. Daugherty's connection with the Morse case has long been a matter of history and newspaper comment, the documentary evidence of the details of this connection together with the successful efforts to release Morse from the penitentiary are made public for the first time by publications in the Washington (D. C.) News and by their insertions in the Congressional Record by Senator Caraway of Arkansas.

This expose is given unusual importance by the charge that Thomas B. Felder, who, according to his own letters associated Mr. Daugherty with himself in the Morse case, and now alleged to be the attorney for the Bosch-Magneto Company, has attempted to hire the government's investigator and chief witness in the Bosch Magneto case pending before the Department of Justice at the suggestion of Attorney General. It is upon this charge made by Captain J. L. Seale, the investigator and Representative Roy L. Woodruff, republican of Michigan, that Senator Caraway bases his suggestion that the Attorney General resign, and upon which demands for an investigation are made in the press.

To what extent the administration will uphold or defend Attorney General Daugherty is, at this writing, a matter of conjecture. Mr. Daugherty, as is well known, was the political sponsor of Mr. Harding upon his advent into politics. It was Mr. Daugherty who managed Mr. Harding's pre-convention campaign and predicted his nomination by a group of blue-eyed men in a smoke filled room at two a. m.

WHY LEGION ADOPTED DAISY AS ITS FLOWER

(By Associated Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 25—The little white daisy of the American Legion is not even a 2nd cousin of the English daisy of poetic tradition, writes Walter Pritchard Eaton, author of an article for the Legion, announced by national headquarters of the organization.

The American daisy was adopted by the Legion as its official flower after three years of discussion.

The poppy of Flanders, a household word throughout America, was the first choice. They say these poppies grow in fields where blood is shed. They flourish in the English wheatfield—Hastings, where William the Conqueror beat Harold of England about nine hundred years ago in the last conquest of England. They cover the countryside in Flanders, where the English suffered their severest losses during the world war. There was no more than the merest scattering of poppies in the Argonne and about St. Mihiel where the American doughboys went back the Germans.

Moreover this poppy "is not a native of America. After its adoption by the Legion it was brought into the country in considerable quantity and then some experts put out the information that it was likely to spread so fast as to become a pest. The harassed American farmer came forward with a protest at once, announcing to all the world that he already had troubles aplenty with raising wheat for a falling market, let alone poppies.

Therefore the Legion in its third national convention last fall chose the American daisy for its emblem. The choice has met wide approval. It is a perennial and thrives under almost any conditions. Children and top sergeants love it. In quantity, it affords a glorious mass of lively beauty that cheers the heart.

Meanwhile the poppy of more sombre memories has by no means been forgotten. It has been adopted by the American American Legion Auxiliary as memorial flower of the world war. The crimson of sacrifice that stains its petals will serve as a long reminder of the struggle and the victory.

ALVERSON TO RUN INDEPENDENT PAPER

Hon. Jesse M. Alverson, formerly of Richmond, and well known farmer and newspaper publisher, will conduct an independent paper at Harlan, Harlan county, where he bought the Enterprise a week or so ago. His friends at his old home here will be interested in his salutary, which says:

"We shall aim to run a strictly live independent newspaper in the fullest sense of the meaning of these words, conceding at the outset to the dominant party in Harlan to rule, asking in return only faithful performance by upright efficient public officials, which we have every reason to believe exists herein; assuring to each and his party nothing but the fairest of treatment at our hands at all times and under all circumstances with our columns always open to them; our every effort being to make a better and greater Harlan, morally, civically and industrially.

Do Your Best

Everyone should do all he can to provide for his family and in order to do this he must keep his physical system in the best condition possible. No one can reasonably hope to do much when he is half sick a good share of the time. If you are constipated, bilious or troubled with indigestion, get a package of Chamberlain's Tablets and follow the plain printed directions, and you will soon be feeling all right and able to do a day's work.

Clark Grass Seed Men

Pledge Sale Together

Winchester, Ky., May 26—Farmers and grass seed growers, meeting at the Clark County National Bank Wednesday, pledged themselves not to price or sell any blue grass seed unless the price was entirely satisfactory. All the large growers of the growers of the county were present, representing three-fourths of the seed raised in Clark county. A committee composed of T. W. Brock, E. B. Dooley, and R. P. Taylor was appointed to represent the Clark county growers in the sale of this seed.

GLACIER PARK INDIANS TO HONOR NATIONAL EDITORS

1. Committee of Glacier National Park Indian chiefs that awaits coming of National Editorial Association tour to Rocky Mountains in July.
2. Mrs. Medicine Weasel, 92 years old, the Blackfoot tribe's expert vegetable dye stealer, who is directing a "flying squadron of squaws" now searching the Rocky mountain slopes for roots and herbs from which she will extract color pigments that will be used to decorate the initiated editors.
3. Council of Indians discussing initiation plans by which they will make a new tribe of scribers.
4. Chief Big Springs, official greeter of the Glacier Park Indian tribe, is shown indicating "a Welcome" in the universal sign language of the American Indian.

Glacier Park Station, Mont., May—Prominent members of the National Editorial Association are slated for adoption into the Blackfoot tribe when they visit Glacier National Park during their Montana tour in July. The Indian council already has held a big pow wow and selected its reception committee to greet the editors with a real war whoop. The initiation ceremony of the Blackfoot Nation is an impressive proceeding. The pale face subjects, stripped to the waists, are lined up, kneeling in prayerful attitude, within a circle of braves. Amid the hum of beating tom-toms and solemn chanting of the adoption song the Indian chiefs, arrayed in their beaded buckskins and feathered regalia, paint their family hieroglyphics upon the bare backs of the white men that are thus taken in as members of the Redman's tribe and given Indian names. The Indians are bent upon honoring real chiefs of the white race and they have picked the state editorial association presidents as the ones who measure up as their own peers in this respect. A "flying squadron" of squaws, headed by Mrs. Medicine Weasel, the tribe's venerable vegetable dye expert, now is roaming the Rocky Mountain slopes gathering roots and herbs which will be steeped in a huge caldron to produce all the colors of the rainbow that are to decorate the backs of the class of editorial chiefs to be honored on this memorable occasion. These newspaper men this distinguished, will have one obligation thrust upon them—just a little matter of changing their weapons. They must drop the blue pencil for the mammoth quill of the Glacier Park Golden Eagle, which they will find, after becoming accustomed to its use, writes just as fluently.

Conan Doyle On This

Life and the Next One

That we are all spirits, but bound to the present physical world by our material body, which he describes as "a clumsy machine." That when this machine finally ceases to function our spirit is released to rejoin the ethereal world.

That there is continual struggle for the spirit to gain happiness over material obstacles and that there are several phases of existence in the spirit world—a purgatory, even, and a heaven, where all the laws of physics and mortality are in effect and where all is organized and real, not topsy-turvy.

That death is not painful, but an extremely pleasant process. That the "escape" of the soul from this life to the world beyond can be observed by persons with certain clairvoyant powers.

That youth and old age are not recognized in the world beyond. There children immediately attain maturity and the aged return to their prime.

That there is no hell. Departed spirits live in various places of happiness, however, and can progress from one place to another. The wicked are punished on a lower plane until they are regenerated.

That suicide can be no short cut to happiness in the world beyond, because it leads into misery on many planes before ultimate happiness can be restored.

That all orderly decent people will find themselves in paradise soon after death.

That the first plane of departed souls is "Summerland," and the average span of life there is forty years. Life there is complex and as busy as in this world.

That these and other facts have been revealed to Doyle by spirits in the Great Beyond who imparted information by appearing to him and to others in seances.

That "mediums" are to be considered only as messenger boys who carry telegrams from the beyond and who may have lower mentalities than our own.

MRS. CROMWELL WRITES ON CAPITOL HISTORY

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., May 25—The first Kentucky General Assembly met in a two-story log house in Lexington on June 4, 1792 and continued in session for twelve days, according to a paper giving the history of the Kentucky legislature just prepared by Mrs. Emma Guy Cromwell, of Frankfort. The paper deals with the more important bills, the historical features of the assembly sessions and the progress made by the state through legislation.

The second place of meeting of the assembly was in the frame house of Major Love at Frankfort on Nov. 1, 1793 and the third was the first permanent state capitol building in Frankfort on Nov. 3, 1794.

The state capitol was destroyed by fire Nov. 25, 1813, and the fourth place of meeting of the legislature was in a rented building. The fifth place was the second permanent capitol in which the meeting was opened on Jan. 31, 1814, and which burned on Nov. 14, 1824.

The seventh meeting place was the third permanent capitol which was occupied Dec. 7, 1829, and continued in that capacity until the end of the 1908 session. The eighth meeting place was the present capitol building and it was occupied in 1910.

The first general assembly, the members of which received $1 day, passed 36 acts and six resolutions which were approved by Gov. Shelby. The second session of the 48 days, resulted in 99 acts and 9 resolutions being passed and approved.

At the second session, the fifth lottery law was passed enabling John Smith and others of the Dutch Presbyterian society near Lexington to conduct a lottery to raise $500 to buy a lot and build a church. At this session also, Robert Todd, John Edwards, John Allen, Henry Lee, and Thomas Kennedy were named as a committee to arrange a site for the seat of government and they chose Frankfort.

The first constitution adopted April 3, 1792, was revised in 1799 by a convention that sat for 27 days. This constitution was revised in 1851 and again in 1892. There were 11 senators and 40 representatives under the first constitution and 100 representatives and 38 senators under the second, the same as under the present constitution. The 1892 constitutional convention worked 18 months.

The death penalty except for wilful murder was abolished in 1796 and in 1806 the legislature voted to buy the first fire engine for Frankfort. The first divorce law was passed in 1809 and in 1812 the present oath requiring all officers of the state swear that they have not participated in a duel or acted as a second and made a part of the state law. This followed a duel between Henry Clay and Humphrey Marshall at Louisville.

In 1812 the state was divided into ten congressional districts, and in 1813 the law was passed encouraging the manufacture of salt.

The state library in Frankfort was established Nov. 9, 1820 and in 1821 imprisonment for debt was abolished and a law passed setting aside one-half of the profits of the commonwealth as a literary fund for the support of education.

In 1823 severe laws against gambling were passed. In 1827 many resolutions were placed before the legislature to remove the capitol to Lexington, Louisville, Shelbyville, Harrodsburg and other points, but were defeated.

In 1830 common school laws were passed and on Feb. 22, 1834 the public school system was created. In 1851 the free public school system was created.

The shortest session of the legislature ever held was a two-day session called on Aug. 19, 1840, to re-enact the law for the election of presidential electors on the first Monday in November.

In 1844-45 the legislature voted to remove the remains of Daniel Boone and his wife from Missouri to the Frankfort cemetery and they were interred here on Sept. 13, 1845.

In 1845 a law was passed making the property of married women not liable for the debts of their husbands and making husbands not liable for debts contracted by their wives before marriage.

The assembly on March 1, 1854 passed a law imposing a fine of $100 for betting on elections and on Feb. 1, 1858, a law was passed establishing normal schools for teachers.

A committee was appointed in 1864 to inquire into moving the capitol from Frankfort to Louisville or Lexington. and governor were republican and the Senate democratic. The democrats and republicans were tied on jointballot with two Populists holding the balance of power. Mrs. Cromwell was elected State Librarian after 28 days by the vote of the two populists and one republican. The session ended, however, without a successor to J. C. S. Blackburn, as United States Senator, being elected. During the latter part of the session the state militia guarded the capitol.

In 1900 William Goebel contested the election of William B. Taylor for governor. Goebel was fatally wounded by an assassin before the contest ended, but was awarded the election and sworn in before he died and J. C. W. Beckham, who had been elected lieutenant governor, was made governor.

In 1904 the assembly adopted the six months' school term for the common schools and in 1922 extended it to seven months.

School suffrage was conferred on women by the 1912 assembly.

RURAL DISTRICTS ARE DRAINED OF DOCTORS

(By Associated Press)

St. Louis, Mo., May 24—That a transition from individual to organized medical practice is spreading widely was asserted here Tuesday night by Dr. Geo. E. de Schweinitz, president of the American Medical Association, in his presidential address before the opening meeting of the annual session. That reforms of the curriculum of the undergraduate medical school is urgently needed, that rural districts are apparently being drained of doctors and that the public is dissatisfied "with a service which is devoted only to the cure of maladies and the mending of injuries," were other assertions in the address.

Dr. de Schweinitz called attention to the fact that the association was organized 75 years ago and efficiently reorganized 21 years ago, making the occasion a celebration of its diamond jubilee.

The speaker, remarking that clinics, health centers, and community hospitals are developing to supply communities which are not in contact with hospital and laboratory facilities, and have encountered some opposition said, "It is useless to disregard the fact that in the words of a thoughtful medical writer, a transition from individual to organized practice has begun, and that the movement spreads widely." The solution of this problem, he continued, "must be undertaken with the protection of the rights of the general practitioner as a paramount duty. But the general practitioner, properly unwilling to submit to the abrogation of professional work, must also not be unwilling, intelligently and in a spirit of co-operation, to recognize the desires, the demands, if you choose, of the people among whom he lives to have at their disposal the same advantages which to those who dwell in larger centers.

"The public is not satisfied with a service which is devoted only to the cure of maladies and the mending of injuries, but is very much alive to the advantages of the prevention of disease and the conservation of health; and he, the practitioner, should be equally alive to his opportunity to secure leadership in such movements, a leadership which is his to hold and to maintain, provided he approaches the problem in a spirit of co-operation and with a resolute 'will to win.'"

Dr. de Schweinitz said a recent investigation showed that properly conducted preventive medicine increased the number of people applying to the co-operating practitioner for treatment, and made his work simpler and more effective. He added that rural hospitals would draw young doctors to regions where they were needed.

Dr. de Schweinitz told of methods being devised to keep country doctors in touch with medical developments. He mentioned particularly state university extension course for this purpose. The medical student must have a much more evenly balanced diet than it provided in the present

Beautiful Reception

The Christian church choir was host Thursday night at a lovely informal reception for Miss Zerelda Baxter, who is to be an early June bride. Mrs. H. L. Perry, assisted by other members, was responsible for its success. The primary room in its decorative attire was beautiful beyond description. It was transformed as if by magic into a bower of floral loveliness. Mrs. Perry had arranged a program of music, including songs by Mrs. Paul Burnam, Mr. Bowman, Miss Carrie Allman, Miss Cynthia Davison, Miss Zerelda Baxter and two instrumental numbers by Misses Dollie Pickles and Mary Louise Deatherage. With a brief word an exquisite basket was presented the bride-elect as an expression of regard from the members of the choir.

Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Luxon had also prepared a puzzle contest and the prize went to Mrs. John Arnold, who had but one incorrect answer. About thirty guests were present and all are anticipating another such occasion from this choir which has so many young people among its membership.

HAD TO LIVE ON TOAST AND MILK MOST OF TIME

Mrs. Nettie Phillips Says She Believes Tanlac Saved Her Life When It Rid Her of Stomach Trouble.

"I am the happiest woman in town since my recovery. I believe Tanlac saved my life," said Mrs. Nettie Phillips, of Mogadore near Akron, Ohio. "My stomach was so badly disordered for some years I had to live on toast and milk most of the time, because solid food caused me perfect agony. I had dizzy spells when black spots swam before my eyes and I dreaded to go to bed for I could not sleep. I was taking medicine all the time but kept getting worse."

"A few bottles of Tanlac have made me so I can eat anything without indigestion. I have a healthy color, sleep well, am free from the dizzy spells, and have gained several pounds. It is no more than right for me to recommend Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

The Ku Klux Rides Again

We have often heard of the strange old tales That history has handed down, Of those who wore the snow-white mask, The men of the spotless gown.

We have often read of the matchless steeds They rode through the dead of night, All in regalia pure as snow On a mission just as white.

We have often wondered what became Of those secret, silent men, But they called her white-clad Klokha And the Ku Klux rides again.

We have wondered what their mission is And what has made them re-sart, Then one, under the cloak of red, Ever rode the Ku Klux heart.

(In Cynthia Democrat) What profiteth it the Kentucky Press Association to meet at Crab Orchard Springs when Volstead is in flower?

Something to worry about: Custom officials won't allow 50 pounds of branded candy shipped from Paris to be delivered to Billie Burke.

"And what is your idea of an ideal husband?" "A man," replied the sweet young thing.

In declaring the Child Labor Law unconstitutional the U. S. Supreme Court declares it invades states' rights as if states have any rights these days!

The republicans of Pennsylvania are trying to make it hot for the democrats in November. Nominated Pincho for Governor and Pepper for Senator. Campaign cry, "Pincho! Pepper!" Wouldn't that make you sneeze?

And so, following a season of heart-break for us screen worshippers of Rodolpho Valentino, it is shown that Rodolpho is, after all, a romantic Italian and not the son of Dennis McGinnis, former foreman of the Advocate printing plant, Danville, Ky. Leavening Strength Tells the Story
The price you pay for baking powder doesn't determine the results you will have on bake day. You may buy a baking powder for less than Calumet and think you are practicing economy. Don't be misled—the baking powder you buy will make those that are successful exorbitant in cost.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

has successfully proven, during the past thirty years, that it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength. That's why bakers where it is employed never fail to raise properly. Calumet is used by more housewives, leading chefs, domestic scientists, restaurants, hotels and railroads than any other brand. Millions buy it—you should try it.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 15 oz. Some baking powders come in 42 oz. cans instead of 15 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Man Injured In Fall From Cherry Tree Dies
Shelbyville, Ky., May 26—Abner Scroggins, 25 years old, died at 11 o'clock Wednesday night from injuries suffered eleven hours before in a fall from the top of a cherry tree on the farm of R. R. Gilmer in the northwest corner of this county. He was survived by his widow and one child.

FOR A CONSTIPATED CHILD

A small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will bring quick relief.

MOTHER, when one of the children is constipated are you going to give the first laxative within reach? It is dangerous to do so. Some have been known to rupture the intestines of little children. Don't be beguiled by the outside sugary appearance. Look into the formula. Calumet is seldom necessary; salts, minims, coal tar, never!

Unlike these, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is admirable for children, as it is for grown people, too. Mothers have been giving it to children for 30 years. They know it does not gripe, and is free from narcotics. The formula is on every package, and you can see it is vegetable, just a combination of Egyptian Senna and other laxative herbs with pepsin. Use it yourself and you will find it is not necessary to take it every day, nor to increase the dose, and that it is pleasant to the taste. Bottles can be had at all drug stores, and the cost is only about a cent a dose. Have no hesitancy giving it to a baby in arms. It is absolutely safe.

Half-Ounce Bottle Free.
Few escape constipation, so even if you do not require a laxative at this moment let me send you a Half-Ounce Trial Bottle of my Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE so that you will have it handy when needed. GOLF TOURNAMENT ON WINCHESTER LINKS

The Kentucky State Golf tournament will be held at Winchester this year. The Sen had some interesting notes on the Winchester course the other day which may be of interest to local "golf bugs."

The Winchester Golf Club has honor this year of furnishing the course for the annual State Tournament, and its history may be interesting to those who have been led to believe that it takes a large amount of capital to build a good course. This club began in May, 1916, with a membership of about twenty and a rather ragged piece of land, principally covered with weeds and moderately good soil. The dues were put at $10 because only two of the members had ever played golf before, and it was thought advisable to first build up an interest in the game before levying too heavy a tax. From this the dues were raised to $15 and then to $25 and now the dues are $35 with the membership at about 125.

A very simple club house was built at the start, furnishing just enough room for entertainment and lockers for the members. This also has been added to and improved until now the club can easily take care of its membership and feels assured that it can fairly take care of the State Tournament, which will begin June 14th of this year. That is, the qualifying rounds will be played, and the matches will begin Thursday, June 15th, which will consist of four flights, championship, Presidents, Binegras and Beargrass flights. There will also be a professional tournament with a nice purse offered to the winner and the runner up. Each year the grounds have been improved not only as to the fairways and greens, but starting with the total length of 224 yards, the course has been extended three times until now it measures 3167 yards with the distances as follows: No. 1, 17 yards; 2, 335 yards; 3, 427 yards; 4, 215 yards; 5, 350 yards; 6, 397 yards; 7, 420 yards; 8, 500 yards; 9, 365 yards, with a par of 35 which so far no one has been able to make, the best being 3. Only one visitor has ever gone below 38, and that was Chris Brinke, who equalled the record of 36.

More than 200 players through the United States have been listed as eligible to compete in the National Amateur Golf Championship tournament scheduled to be played at The Country Club, Brookline, Mass., beginning Sept. 4. Players whose records during the coming season warrant will be added to the eligibility list from time to time. Any player who may desire to compete and whose name does not appear on the list may submit records which, if acceptable to the Eligibility Committee, may entitle him to a place on the list.

KENNEDY TAKING CAMP APPLICATIONS

An urgent call for promptness in submitting applications for the 1922 Citizens Military Training Camp has been issued by D. W. Kennedy, local representative of the Organized Reserves, United States Army. Lists will be closed June 1, the War Department has announced, in order that preparations for handling the camp may be completed at Camp Knox, Ky., by August 1.

"Besides the call of patriotic duty, which should impel every young, able bodied man to prepare himself to defend his country," Mr. Kennedy said, "the Citizens Military Training Camp offers what really amounts to a four weeks' vacation at the expense of the United States government. All expenses, including railroad fare to Camp Knox, food, shelter and clothing, will be furnished for the service."

The Citizens Military Training Camp, which will be held from August 1 to August 31, comprises three courses in army training. The Red course is for those who have had no military experience whatever. Applicants must be from 17 to 25 years of age. The White course, for applicants who have had some experience, is designed to develop enlisted specialists and non-commissioned officers. The Blue course, for applicants between the ages of 19 and 27 years, leads to commissions in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

THREE MILLION GUESTS AT WORLD'S LARGEST BIRTHDAY PARTY

Famous Orchestra Leader Plays By Radio For Mother Two Thousand Miles Away

New York City.—The miles that lay between Paul Whiteman in New York City and Mrs. James Wilberforce Whiteman in Denver did not prevent the well-known orchestra leader from giving a party for his mother when her birthday rolled round the other day.

Mr. Whiteman simply took himself and his ten piece orchestra de luxe to Newark, N. J., where there's a radio broadcasting station.

At the same hour, two thousand miles away, Mrs. Whiteman was seated in front of her newly-installed radio set and the first birthday party ever given by radio was on.

Mother "Listens In"

A father? Ask Mrs. Whiteman, who hadn't seen her boy or heard him play for three years and hadn't had him at her birthday party for five.

Ask, too, the three million guests all over the United States who "listened in" to the special program which included new songs by Billy like "Venetian Love Boat" and "Swanee River March" as well as "Ty-Tee," the new South Sea symphony.

After the party, Mrs. Whiteman was seated in front of her newly-installed radio set and the first birthday party ever given by radio was on.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a backache. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor. Read this statement:

Mrs. Thomas Lane, 405 Mohrly avenue, Richmond, says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills for attacks of kidney trouble and I think they are fine. When my kidneys act irregularly, I have backaches and pains in my side. I also have a dull, nagging ache right across my kidneys and I feel tired and languid. If I stoop over I get dizzy and colored specks come before my eyes. I feel so miserable I can't do my housework as I would like to. When I have these attacks I take Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give me quick relief in every way."

DUSTING PLANTS TO PREVENT DISEASE

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., May 25—Demonstrations are under way in four different counties of the state to determine whether or not dusting plants with commercial powders is an effective way of controlling plant diseases and insects, according to an announcement by J. S. Gardner, vegetable gardening specialist of the College of Agriculture. This method of controlling insects and diseases which represents a marked departure from the present liquid spray method, has received considerable impetus from manufacturers of such powder during the year, he said.

Seven demonstrations under way in Jefferson county have been designed to show the effectiveness of dusting in controlling potato diseases and insects which the demonstration in Davies county, which involves a 12-acre cantaloupe patch, is expected to point out the value of dusting to growers of this crop. The demonstrations in Warren county involve an acre of field-grown and 30 acres of sash-grown cantaloupes.

Those under way in Henderson county have been designed to show the effect of dusting in controlling tomato leaf spot, blight, tobacco horn worms and the Colorado potato beetle on tomatoes. Additional ones in the same county involve a mixed lot of cucumbers, watermelons and musk melons.

PAINT LICK TEAM PLAYED FINE BALL

The Paint Lick high school base ball team closed the season, by defeating the Burgin high school team by the score of 9 to 2. This game took place at Paint Lick Saturday, May 20, and was featured by the all round batting of the Paint Lick boys. Davis did best with the willow for Paint Lick, getting three hits, one of them a home run. However, this is not an unusual feat for Dick as he poled one for the circuit with two mates on in the game played with the strong Madison High team on Friday he 19th.

The Paint Lick team has had an exceedingly good season winning eleven out of thirteen games played, being defeated once by the Lancaster high school and once by the Crab Orchard high school, which teams they also defeated in later games.

The clean game which the boys have played has been the means of furnishing to the lovers of the old game a great deal of pleasure and to say the Paint Lick people are proud of them would be putting it mildly.

Prof. Elder deserves a great deal of credit in his work with the boys, for he has certainly put the P. L. H. S. up among the leaders in high school athletics. We doubt if another high school team can boast of the record these boys have made.

PATRONS SET THEIR WATCHES BY CARRIER

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., May 26—Punctuality of the greatest degree has been attained by Tom Chatham, rural mail carrier who handles the route covering the southwestern section of Jefferson county, in the opinion of William F. Wobbe, assistant superintendent of mails in the Louisville postoffice.

"Patrons along Chatham's route set their watches by him," declared Mr. Wobbe, "and they will not miss the correct time a half a dozen minutes during the month."

Chatham has worked out a system of delivering the mails to the patrons on the many roads and crossroads of his route that, according to Mr. Wobbe, has not been equalled by any rural carrier in the country. Mr. Chatham has carried mail over the rural route for more than a decade and during that time has given excellent service to the hundreds of patrons, according to Mr. Wobbe.

Chatham's system is simple. He merely gets started on time. That is the secret of his success and the reason that patrons can regulate their time by his arrival at their mail boxes. On days when the run of mail is usually heavy, Chatham starts a little earlier in the morning and works a little faster before leaving the office. When the time of his departure comes he gathers all the mail, both that which he has arranged and that which he has not, and starts his route.

When the run is light he merely drives a little slower. As he drives along he finishes sorting the mail and always endeavors to keep at least "half an hour's lead on the delivery points."

"On many routes the farmer does not know when to go down to the mail box," said Mr. Wobbe. "Sometimes the time of arrival of the mailman varies more than an hour. But that is not the case with Chatham. When 9 o'clock or 10 o'clock, as the case may be, comes the man in the country knows that his morning paper will be there just at that minute."

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE BLEACHES FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan bleach, and complexion whitener.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes bleach out and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes.

FOREST HILL

Mrs. M. L. Haden and daughters of Richmond, spent the week-end with Mrs. J. H. Million and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells and children, of Versailles, have returned home after several days visit with relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Powell, of Richmond, visited Mrs. Bettie Powell and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Million, of Newby, spent Sunday night and Monday with Mrs. Bettie Million.

Mrs. A. H. Wells spent Tuesday with Mrs. C. G. Jenkins, of Richmond.

Mrs. Miley Lowry and Mr. and Mrs. Tunnell Lowry, of Newby, visited Mrs. Elmer Cosby Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jenkins, of Atlanta, Ga., were calling on friends in this community Monday.

Friends of this community extend to Mr. and Mrs. Noble Perkins their deepest sympathy in their hour of bereavement in the loss of their little daughter, Hazel Lee, who departed this life Saturday morning, May 20. She had been suffering for several weeks of pneumonia from which she never recovered. Funeral services were conducted Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at Antioch church by Rev. Warner. May the bereaved ones be comforted by the words of their Master when said, "Suffer little children to come unto me."

Rev. D. C. Poindexter, of Wilmore, filled his appointment at this place Saturday night and Sunday. Eleven other students of Asbury College were present for the service Sunday, and were entertained for dinner in the homes of Mrs. Albert Newby, Mrs. Hiram Azbill, Mrs. A. H. Wells and Mrs. Bettie Powell. We regret very much to give up Bro. Poindexter, who leaves soon as a Missionary to South America, but bid him God-speed in his work.

Mr. Ralph W. Smith, of Cleveland, Ohio, is expected Saturday to spend a few days with his sister, Mrs. Ballard Luxon, on West Main street.

DYE SKIRT, COAT, DRAPERIES WITH DIAMOND DYES

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can dye or tint faded, shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, sweaters, stockings, hangings, draperies, everything like new. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed, even if you have never dyed before. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, fade, spot, or run.
